

Extraversion

Represents how outgoing, energetic, and socially engaged a person is. People high in extraversion are typically talkative and assertive, while those lower in extraversion (more introverted) prefer solitude and quieter environments.

Writing-style descriptions: Writing is energetic, expressive, and conversational. Often uses strong opinions, emotional emphasis, storytelling, and social references. Language may be informal, enthusiastic, and directed toward engaging or influencing others.

Gaphology-style Overall impression: Expressive, expansive, energetic writing.

Slant: Strong right slant

- Indicates sociability, emotional expressiveness, and outward energy.

Pressure: Heavy

- Reflects high energy, assertiveness, and confidence.

Spacing: Wide word and line spacing

- Suggests openness, need for interaction, and comfort with space.

Size: Large

- Indicates confidence, visibility, and desire to be noticed.
- Page usage: Expansive use of the page, flowing lines
- Shows enthusiasm, spontaneity, and outward focus.